

I work nights. I don't like to received telemarketer calls during the day. Before having calls blocked, I would receive 2-3 calls before noon almost everyday. Consequently, I would turn off my phone most of the time and then miss important calls from friends and family.

I think the law should be made stronger not weaker.

Also I would like to include political calls in the "Do not call list". Prior to the last election I was receiving 2-3 calls a day.

I voted to the canidate who called the least.
